

McGill College,
Montreal.

May 4, 1871

Dear Jenge,
It would have been quite convenient if you had found time to send your account, as I would have known more certainly how much money to send. I remit however with this, as above, a Bill Exchange for £40 sterling, which will keep you moving a little longer, but out of it however I wish you to get a P.O. order for £6. 2/6 and send it to Mr Dallas, Geological Society, with the enclosed note, so that there will be my £33. 11/6 for your use. I shall know how that meets your wants and how long it will last, when I see you again.

Yours before this reaches

+ He will send you a receipt.

