

Mr. Francis Giles C.E. is about to re-examine the Iron and Coal Fields of Nova Scotia and wishes to have the assistance of a practical man well acquainted with the methods of testing ores and with mining operations.

Mr. Giles leaves Liverpool on 16th July and is willing to pay the passage money out and home of a fully competent person together with a donceur of £20. It is in contemplation to establish Iron works in Nova Scotia and the present engagement might lead to permanent employment therein. Mr. Jiles ventures to submit this offer to Dr. Percy on the possibility that one of his pupils at the School of Mines may be desirous of accepting it and would solicit Dr. Percy's kind offices in ascertaining whether such is the case.
