Dear George,

I received yesterday your postcard from Fort Rupert, and we are all glad to hear again
 of your safe progress so far, & hope to hear soon from Beattie. We are all as usual, and my chief work for some time (having red tape interruptions) has been getting matters right in the museum,
 and superintending Carey,
 who is working there constantly. I had a letter last week from Dr Wilson, in which he regrets that you could not continue the course membership, and expresses himself very kindly as to the wish that you should have some connection with their movement. They have not taken Washington

in your place, the current running very strong there at present & have only their own graduates in all

employments, I sent to A Newbery by his agent a copy of your table of the Peasants of Crete, and he sent a very letter in reply, saying that he has been maintaining a somewhat similar copy for some time, and he shall keep the letter for you return. He also promises to send me a new set of plates
he is getting out.

dear Judge, you could think after the loss of Manning in your lot with me and the college here. The work is altogether beyond what I can do,
and I do not know when to look for help; but we shall hope to talk of this when you return.

I have your dividend with myself & paid it in to you credit. With all love
