

are different to put together to the Comsat. Write much about before
 I sincerely trust that you have got through the strain of exhibition pouring Catalogues that are a reasonable amount of work. I now occupy your also that you have found time to visit to the house hold of the
 I am
 with our names having of wishes to meet our Secretary your own Mother of importance open but latterly we have been rushing about as if chased by an apparition. The great event of the day was the opening of the Exhibition on Tuesday wh. telegrams have already given you a sketch & newspapers will give you ample hours. After the guests of this world had departed from the Hall we followed their steps along the Carpet Corridor - flowers & exotic adorned way into the exhibition - lunch there & wandered about its Courts for several hours returning faint footwear & head-be-wildered - such is the result of pleasure. We have not begun to see the exhibition but must come later.

Last night we dined with the Rais. Amongst the guests was a Mr Sir Hyde Clarke, who told me he wished to send you one of his publications being on the Prehistoric & Philological history of some of the American tribes & he desires in return that you sh^d. send him your dictionary? Comparing the language of different tribes. I enclose the address he gave me in the hope you may be able to gratify him as I said that you wd. be pleased to do so.

The Rais made most kind inquiries after you & regretted that you were not to be here this summer.

Rankine is walking the Hospital & if nothing better turns up intends to return the 1st or 6th mode of life. We go on Monday to spend a week with the Bannys after that probably will go for a few days to the Redpatters. return to London again for about two weeks & then to Manchester & passably scattered the paper joins us but such annoyances accounts. So that I shall only tell you that Sir C. Supper was so very good as to send us tickets of admission to the Albert Hall by far the best place to see the historical part of the pageant. We saw the Queen & Royal family quietly for an hour or more & heard music such as I shall never again hear on earth. Altho' the sounding of "Sweet Home" accompanied by such soft spiritual touches from different instruments was beyond conception beautiful. The ode by Emerson &c. you will never hear as I heard it but you can read his lines. but I must restrain my pen for I have material within that will flow out for