

The British Chamber of Commerce
135, NEW BOND STREET, W.
Jan 22 1895

Dear Gayer,

Allow me to congratulate you on your latest success, the notion of which appeared in all the papers here yesterday.
There seems to be but one opinion on the subject, - the right, and only man for the position, - which is very satisfactory. You will

2, I have little doubt be able to make the department a much more important and useful one than it has been thus far, and need not at least be hampered by old Selwyn's fear of getting able or clever subordinates -

Accept my heartiest congratulations & best wishes.

Enclose clipping from today's 'Times', taken from

The British Colonist, which you continue to send, and for which many thanks.

I have today, too,
received letters from Florence Will, for which please express my acknowledgments to them.

With renewed good wishes for the New Year so auspiciously begun.

Your affectionate brother, Rankine.
