by ~~the~~ <sup>the</sup> different journals in the U.S. The whole he has his obligations to him.
I am very much thankful that I was able to get the papers going out per a direct line with Mullers - this is our first experience with your affairs
per note
received last night. As there appears to be no difficulty about business matters any that they progress slowly, I thought it wiser to bring you down last Saturday. I have, as you directed me, gone over past papers & found the receipts for the two separate purchases of gravestones at the Cemetery. Also receipts for taxes on house but not any separate papers are lots. I found a note saying that the deeds for these were in the safe, at the Montreal Branch Bank, of Montreal. I sent Mr. Glee the tax receipts & told him if necessary I would get the deeds but as yet have no answer. I also looked carefully through the investments in his account book, & compared them with a list, in his own hand writing, stating what he had transferred to me. I found all of them had been transferred. This list of partners I also sent to Glee. The thing that has been unduly charged is the "hooker" as Anna & Bernice did not approval of my proposals. Thus by means of waiving the preface it would ~~not~~ do double duty by thanking friends per letters & copies of sympathy. It was finally decided that the preface as I wanted (as it was short) would be printed & submitted to you as impire & left out if you thought best. In fact, last night, I decided that H. & B. were wiser than I & that I had this morning before B. left, as he intended to go the Witness office about the hook to-day, follow this advice, but he had left early & was gone before I got in. If we get a proof before Saturday we will let you know, or if we

Fleet raises any questions difficult to decide I will also tell you.
& perhaps, if you can, you will be so kind as come to our help.

I have had letters from both Rankine & Ewa. Hope is better but not strong & I think has taken some kind of low fever & they are thus detained at Halyhead where Clara must soon to join them, the fever being of a non-infectious character. P. also sent Anne the Times. I did not much like this notice. I have had advertisements for "Press Cutting Assn" offering to collect all notices of parties. We do not think we need these, do you? I send 3 copies of short biography list you may have to refer to dates for your own use or others. P. Adams
