DEPUTY HEAD AND DIRECTOR,

MUSEUM AND OFFICES, SUSSEX STREET,

OTTAWA, Nov. 20th, 1900. 190

Dear Mr. Kidston,

When I wrote you some days ago I had just written to Prof. Penhallow of Montreal about the specimens you asked for of Kelymna grandis. Later, Prof. Penhallow replied that beyond the examination of the sections he knows nothing of the material. He is certain that there was not enough of the original to meet your request. He informed me, however, that the original material had been sent to my father by Prof. C. E. Beecher, Yale Museum, New Haven, Conn.

On receipt of this information I wrote a note to Prof. Beecher mentioning your request and suggesting that he might communicate with you directly. I have not since heard from him, but hope that he may have written to you.

Yours truly,

R. Kidston Esq.,

Yours truly,

To You,

since I am from him, but hope that he may have written that he might communicate with you directly. I have not if Prof. Beecher mentioning your request and suggesting on receipt of this information I wrote a note New Haven, Conn.

(sent to my father by Prof. C. E. Beecher, Yale Museum, informed me, however, that the original material had been was not exactly of the original to meet your request. He shows nothing of the material. He is certain that there would that beyond the examination of the sections he has asked for of Kellogg's fragments. Later Prof. Penhallow written to Prof. Penhallow of Montreal about the specimens when I wrote you some days ago I had just been to Kingston)
