

WASHINGTON May 23, 1901.

Dear Madam:

Permit me to tender a word of condolence on the untimely death of your distinguished son; and, as an earnest of my sincerity, to convey to you (under another cover) a number of copies of a memorial which I felt it incumbent on me to prepare. The memorial was published in the current number of the American Anthropologist; and a few copies are going also to Mr W. Bell Dawson, Dr Rankine Dawson, Professor J. B. Harrington, and Mr Pope F. Atkin, besides a sufficient number to Dr Robert Bell to supply the collaborators of the Survey.

Assuring you of profound sympathy and of warm wishes for your own health, I have the honor to remain, with great respect,

Yours cordially,

WJMcKen

Dear Madam:
Permit me to express my words of condolence on the untimely death of your dear departed son; and, as an earnest effort to convey to you (under another cover) a number of copies of a report which I had prepared on his behalf. The material was published in the current number of the Journal of Anthropology; and I hope you will find it of some value. It is the work of Professor J. H. Henshaw, Michigan, and Mr. J. H. Henshaw, Michigan, under the name of Robert Hall.

Survey
Accepting you of my profound sympathy and my warm wishes for your own happiness, I give the report to you with great respect.

Yours cordially,

W. H. Henshaw
