Dear Sir, I am sending in a small box, three species of fresh water shells for the Museum; from the Rideau & Ottawa rivers. They seem to me unusually good specimens of their kind; and I trust you will think them worth having.

The Physa has an unusually low spire; and I do not know whether it should be classed as "heterostropha" or not. I would be glad to know whether it is a variety of this species, or distinct.

Yours very truly,

W. Bell Dawson
