Dear Rankine

Evie also left yesterday for Metz, reminded me that the 11th is your birth-day,

your 2d bth I believe;

and she proposes to send you as a present a copy of her photograph.

The only present I have to send you

is my last letter

book (which perhaps I sent before but I do not remember) and
my very sincere wishes that God may give you many happy returns of the day.
His hand has cared
for you hitherto, and will; for does he
not say that though

a mother may forget
her child he will not forget.

I shall also enclose in this a copy of a portrait of William recently taken — a
rather square one,
but like him. He is a sterling fellow, with name of the Stern

Sense of higher obligation in him than any of the rest of you except Anna; and though he has met with some disappointments, I know that God
will try him out
all right at the last.

May God bless
keep you, till you
both 2 days run up to three sure steers.
Love yours affectionally
