My dear Dr. Dawson Thank you so much for your thoughtful kindness in presenting me with your Father's life. Outside of his own family, no one loved or appreciated him more than I did.

I have read the book with the greatest pleasure most carefully through, and I think that you all to be congratulated on the successful manner for a little change, we expect to be away for about a fortnight, when we come back. I hope that we shall have the pleasure of seeing some thing of you, and Mrs Dawson.

With kind regards

Yours sincerely,

Adelaide Campbell

February 26th 1901

You have presented Sir Williams Autobiography to the public.
I have never read anything more beautiful, and pathetic than his address to the students when he was about to leave Montreal to go South on account of his health.

Allow me again to thank you for the happiness you have given ~~me~~ making me better acquainted with my friend.

We are leaving on Thursday for Woodstock, Vermont.
