Bowdler Sharpe Collection

4.2.86.

My dear Sharpe

I had been intending to write to you to say that in case any important duplicate series of Birds had been that I should look in on Sunday or Wednesday.

Yours truly

Jon and thought I should have an opportunity of explaining Today Dr. J. Bruce has received a letter from Dr. Gunther of the subject of some duplicates and I have written to say disposable. This Museum would be glad to put in a claim. I have postponed doing so as I am about to go over to London & expect to see

My dear Sharpe

I have been travelling about a good deal since I saw you and among other things accomplished have got married. I have left

Museum in Europe or America which would be likely to make a bid for the collection — the specimens are in a most excellent condition

Trusting you will excuse the trouble I remain

get done anything about my Bird collecting but it will be impossible for me to keep it in its present bulky condition and I must at least cut it down by parting with all the duplicates retaining not more than a pair of each species. If I should send any to London for sale I would be glad to know the name of the tradesman you would recommend. I should be also glad to know if you can tell of any
