BLACKER

New Haven, Oct. 26. 1876

Prof. J. Rupert Jones

My dear Sir:

Through the kindness of the executors of the late Henry Christy Esq., the American Journal of Science received the numbers of the Reliquiae Aquitanicae; and the editors took pleasure in mentioning the great value of the work in the Journal whenever any new number was received. All the numbers reached us excepting No. 11; and I write you, my dear professor, to enquire whether we could obtain a copy of the missing number. We should be very willing to pay whatever charge there may be for it.

I have had the pleasure of receiving also, from time to time, copies of your very valuable memoirs, and I thank you much for them. A recent one of my own I have addressed to you, and will send with this.

With high esteem
very truly yours
James D. Dana
