Dear Sir,

I have your letter relating to a copy of Bird Lord never received by you. I would say that I was able to supply but one number of the list you submitted. As it was such a small matter I sent it along direct rather than take time to write back and forth regarding price. I am sorry that it went astray not only on my own account but also because you have lost one of the numbers you wanted. As my return request was also on the envelope it may eventually be returned to me in which case I will take pleasure in forwarding it to you again.

Yours truly
F. S. Floyd.
