Dear Dr.Casey Wood,

I am afraid it is difficult to say from the photograph whether the bird is a young American Eagle or a young Golden Eagle. Mr.Ivor should have no difficulty in deciding if he will examine the bird's tarsus to see whether it is feathered to the toes, as in the Golden Eagle, or with a distinct gap without any feathers as in the American Eagle. There is also a difference in the middle toe which is well shown by Taverner in his 'Birds of Canada,' as are the differences in the tarsus.

We have been having very fine warm weather here just lately, but to-day it has changed again, with a cold wind blowing.

I hope you are keeping well.
Yours sincerely,

[Dr. W.B. Kinnear]

My dear Casey Wood,

Thank you very much indeed for so kindly helping me in regard to tracing the Father Calvi. I have written a little note to Cardinal Tisserant thanking him for all his trouble.

With kindest regards,

Yours sincerely,

Enclosing Cardinal Tisserant's report

Dear Dr.Casey Wood,

Thank you very much for your card. I was just about to write to you asking if you could get any information (from the Vatican) regarding an Italian missionary named Calvi, who was, I imagine,with the 'Apostolic Mission in Abyssinia.' He was supposed to by in Abyssinia previous to 1869, collecting birds. I hope I am not giving you a lot of trouble, but we are anxious to trace a type of Mirafra.

With best wishes from all in the Bird Room,

Yours sincerely,

Dear Dr. van Rossem,

I must apologise for not answering your letter of 24th February sooner, but it somehow or other got mislaid.

May I remind you that the Swainson specimen Guiraca melanocephala is at Cambridge and not here, so that I think your best plan would be to send the specimens of the two forms to me for comparison, as you suggest.

Yours sincerely,

W.B. Kinnear

Dear Dr Casey Wood,

I would like to add to the Official thanks my personal gratification of your most generous donation to the Zoological Library. I have just been looking at it and admiring Brooks' plates.

My dear Kinnear:-

All being well I hope to see you face to face in London. Meantime will you save for me a copy of the above for the E.S.W. Library, McGill University ? I saw a review of it in the last number of the IBIS.

Until we meet,

Sincerely yours

Casey A. Wood
