STANFORD UNIVERSITY

DEPARTMENT OF ANATOMY

Aus. p.c. Kobe. Dec 7-8/32

775 Santa Ynez St
STANFORD UNIVERSITY, CALIFORNIA

July 13, 1932

Dr Casey Wood,
295 Wigmore Drive,
Pasadena, Calif.

Dear Doctor Wood:-

I have delayed too long in acknowledging the receipt of your splendid Introduction to the Literature of Vertebrate Zoology. It came at a time when the rush of the close of the year forbade anything more than a glimpse of its contents, so I put off writing until I might have the pleasure of actually getting acquainted with it. While I have not read it through, and probably never shall do so, I have read the first part and have dipped into the Catalogue. I congratulate you upon such an excellent piece of work which will prove of great value to Zoologists and especially to those right minded souls who are interested in the historical background of the science. I prize it highly and thank you again for your generosity.

Mrs MacFarland joins me in cordial greetings to Mrs. Wood, Miss Tafa and yourself. We hope that you are all well and happy.

Ever faithfully yours
F M MacFarland

That Dodo frontispiece is beautiful.