DR. CASEY WOOD,
ZOOLOGICAL LIBRARY,
BRITISH MUSEUM, [NATURAL HISTORY],
CROMWELL ROAD,
LONDON, S.W.7.

October 8, 1929

Dr. Archibald Malloch,
R.F.D. 2, Box 289-B
White Plains, New York.

Dear Dr. Malloch:-

Many thanks for the Charaka Club list. I hope that you will all have a copy of my latest screed before the snow flies.

It is very good of you to invite me to the next meeting of the Club; indeed I would like to attend not only it but the function connected with the opening of the William H. Welch Library in Baltimore. Of course, you will attend both. I have rather a serious time of it during the past six weeks and am still suffering from what the doctors here call an acute cardiac asthenia. Of course, that is a euphemism for some more or less myocardiac degeneration, and I am accepting it as a warning to go slow in the future. All this means that I must do no work for a couple of months and very little thereafter--rather a nuisance when I wish to complete that big volume we have been engaged on for the last three years, a catalogue raisonnee of the Vertebrate Zoological titles in the McGill collections, some 15,000 in all. However, I must just extend the time for its publication.

If you go to the Baltimore meeting just glance at a contribution I have made to the joyful occasion; I think it will delight your medical soul to see one of the rarest of the Olas on medical history.

I remain, with kindest regards,

Sincerely yours,

THE CHARAKA CLUB

21 September, 1929

Dr. Casey Wood
Authors' Club
London, S.W.1.
England

Dear Dr. Wood:

Dr. Sachs has sent me your note of 24th August and I enclose the names and the addresses of the members of the Charaka Club. It is awfully good of you to think of sending each of them a copy and I know they will appreciate it very much. It is good to hear that Col. Garrison has been able to get away for a holiday. Be sure and come to New York when you return. The first meeting of the Charaka Club is on Wednesday, 20th November and the next one, 15th January.

With kindest regards to you and Mrs. Wood, I remain,

Yours very sincerely,

Archibald Malloch

Archibald Malloch, M.D.
Secretary

AM:GA

Enc.