For your kindness in sending publications please accept the thanks of

Edward L. Mark.

Museum of Comparative Zoölogy.
Cambridge, Mass., U. S. A.

109 Irving St. Cambridge.

July 4. 1912

My dear Dr. Wood:—

Your interesting book came during my big absence from Cambridge. I am sure you have placed all zoologists, and especially ornithologists, under great obligations for your thorough work in such a new field. Please accept with my thanks also my congratulations.

Sincerely yours

E. L. Mark

Dr. Casey A. Wood

Chicago, Ill.

Zoölogical Laboratory

Harvard University

E. L. MARK, DIRECTOR
(109 IRVING ST.)
R. T. JACKSON G. H. PARKER
W. E. CASTLE H. W. RAND

MUSEUM OF COMPARATIVE ZOÖLOGY,
CAMBRIDGE, MASS., U. S. A.

Feb 27, 1908

Dr Casey A. Wood, 72 Madison St. Chicago, Ill,

Dear Sir:- I regret that much work has caused me to delay writing to Dr. Woodward till to-day. I have, however, written him favorably regarding your application for aid from the C. D. in prosecuting your work on the fundi of birds' Eyes -

You had the goodness to send me a copy of your pocket in any paper some time ago, as I was already somewhat familiar with your studies.

Sincerely yours E. L. Mark

Chicago, March 2, '08.

Dr. E. L. Marks,

Harvard University,

Cambridge, Mass.

Dear Sir:

In reply to your letter of Feb. 27th, Dr. Casey Wood is at present in Europe and will not return until the end of April. I have forwarded your letter to him.

Yours truly,

Secretary.