Dr. Casey Wood,

Chicago,

Dear Sir:

Your letter of June first referring to the sending of a copy of your monograph on "The Fundus Oculi of Birds" has just come to my hand. Since I am not at present at Stanford, having left for the vacation, I cannot say whether the work itself has arrived, although I have no doubt that it has done so. I wish to extend you the thanks of the laboratory for your kindness in presenting us with a copy, and to express my personal gratification that my predecessor and present colleagues were so fortunate as to be able to contribute to the forwarding of research in this instance.

With best wishes for your continued progress I am

Cordially yours,

E. G. Martin
