EASY RIDDLES.

Riddle 1.

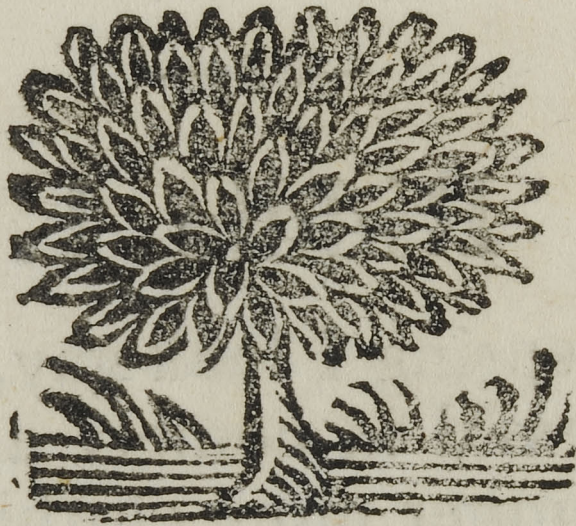

In spring I look gay,
Dress'd in comely array,
In summer more clothing I
wear:

When colder it grows,
I throw off my clothes,
And in winter quite naked
appear.

2.

I've a tail like a flame,
Pray tell me my name.

Answer to Riddle I

A TREE.

A COMET.

No. 3.

I am the terror of mankind,
 My breath is flame, and by
 its power

I urge my messenger to find
 A way into the strongest tower.

4

My colors are various, black,
 blue, red, and green,

I'm intended to hide what is meant to be seen,

I'd break ere I bend, so stubborn am I,

Till by the tongue softened,
 I'm made to comply.

No. 5.

A tall and slender shape I bear
 No lady's skin more white or fair;

My ~~life~~ is short and doth decay
 So soon, it seldom lasts a day.
 If in the evening brought to light,

I make my exit in the night.

I'm a creature by travellers
 very well known,
 And I walk on the ice in the north frigid zone.

Although we are but twenty-

 We change to millions to;
 Altho' we cannot speak a word
 We tell what others do.

9

We are little airy creatures,
 Yet we differ in our features;
 One of us in glass they set;
 Another's always plac'd in jet,
 A third is seen in midst of tin
 The fourth a box is found within;
 The last, if you the search
 pursue,
 Will be always found in you

I am rough, I am smooth,
 I am wet, I am dry,
 My station is low,
 My title is high;
 The king my lawful master is
 In us'd by all, yet only his.

11

My first when I'm hunting
 Accompanies me:
 My next swims in water,
 Though not in the sea.

The whole is oft call'd for
 When people are nice,
 And then, with my first,
 Sent away in a trice,
