

Merry Cobler.

TOBY MEND-ALL,
THE MERRY COBLER.

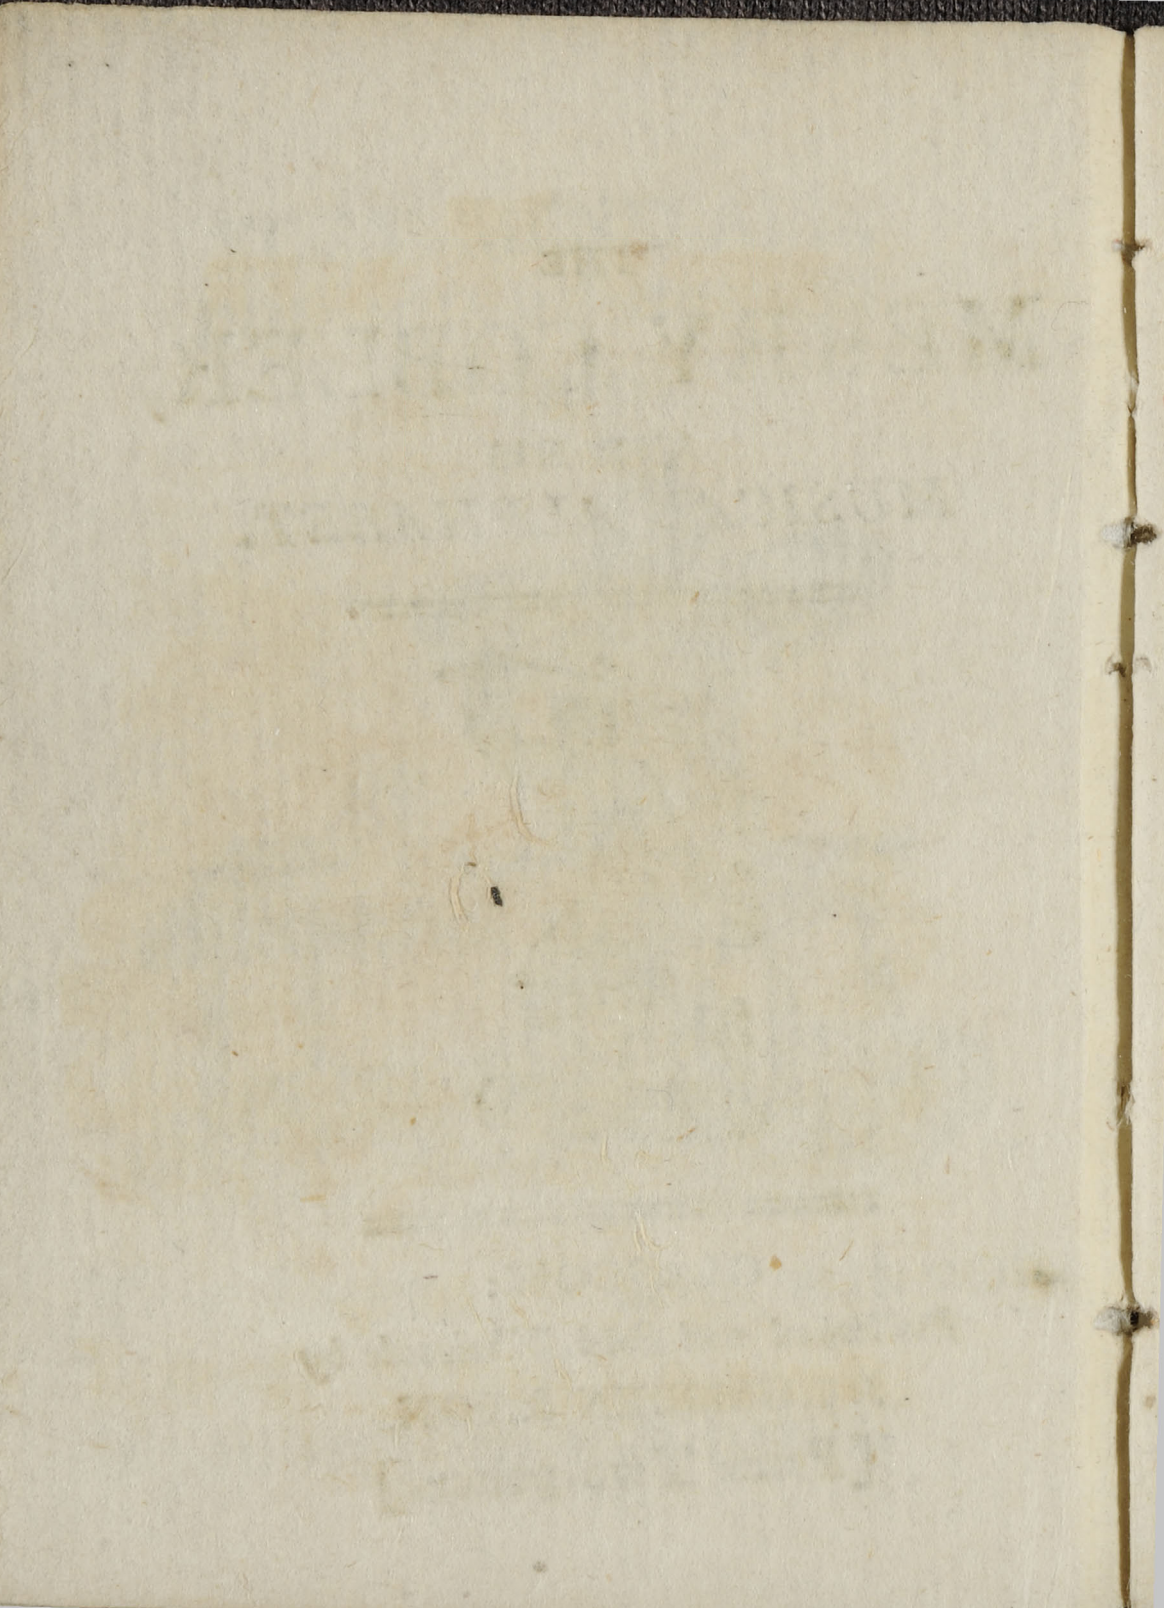

Your Shoes he'll mend with wondrous care,
If you unto his stall repair.

THE
MERRY COBLER,
AND HIS MUSICAL ALPHABET.

GLASGOW:
Published and Sold Wholesale by
J. LUMSDEN & SON.
[Price Two-pence.]

THE
MERRY COBLER.

I had a little hobby horse,
And it was dapple gray;
Its head was made of pea-
straw,
Its tail was made of hay.

A a

A is an Apple,
You can buy in the street;

7

B b

B is a Barber,
So clean and so neat.

C c

C is a Cat,
That catches the Mice;

D d

D is a Dog,
That plays very nice.

10

E e

E stands for Elegance,
Which you see in this Horse;

F f

F is a Footman,
Than him there are worse.

G g

G is a Goat,
That is fond of his tricks;

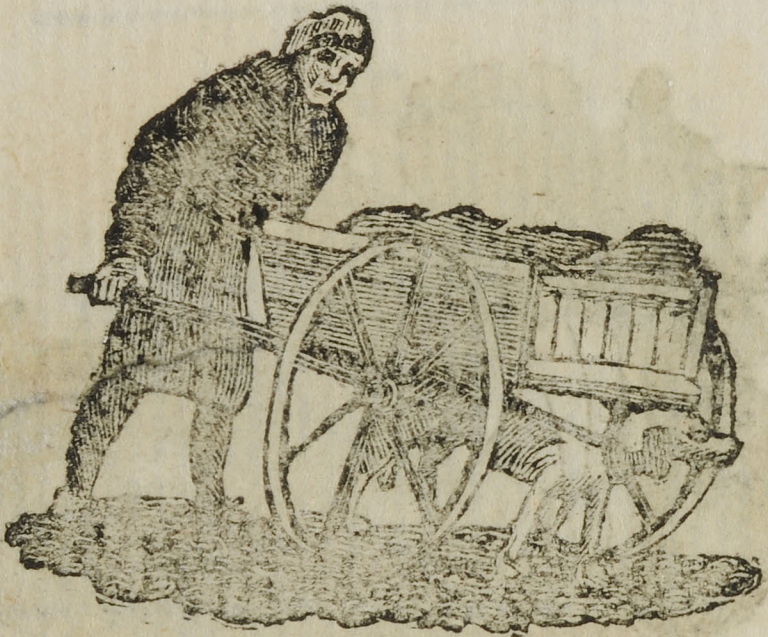

13

H h

H is an Hedge,
Out of which we cut Sticks.

I i

I stands for Industry;
Which you see here;

15

J j

J is a Jumper,
Without any fear.

K k

K is our Keeper,
Whom you often may see;

17

L I

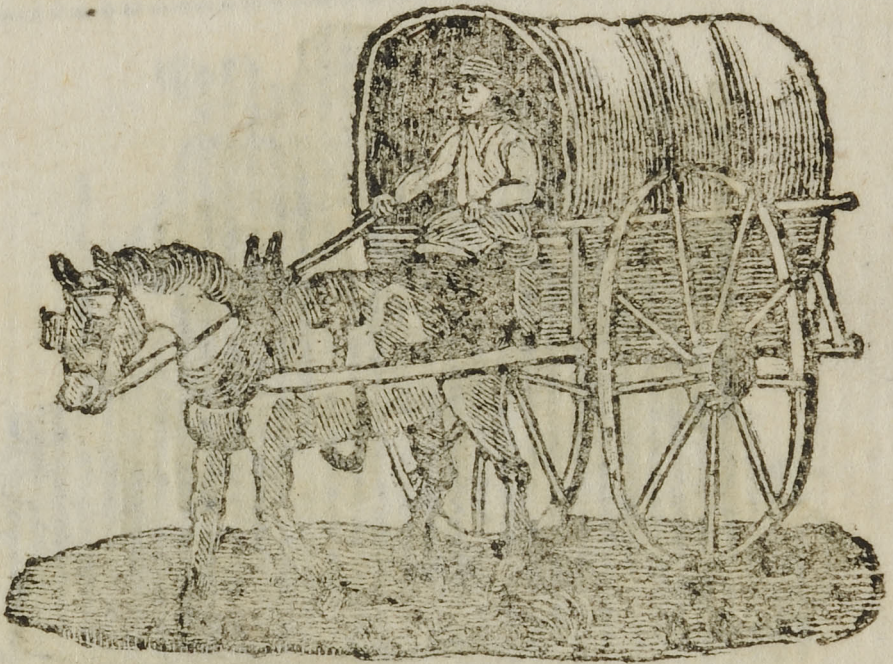

L is a Lady,
Now crossing the Sea.

M m

M is the Music,
To charm every heart;

N n

N is our Ned,
Now driving the Cart.

O O

O's an Old Woman,
That irons the Clothes;

P p

P is a Poor Hermit,
Without any Shoes.

Q q

Q's the Queen's Regiment,
Look at them drilling;

R r

R is a Romp,
To swing, very willing.

S s

S is a Sailor,
Cracks jokes, and is witty;

T t

T is poor Tray,
Wants to dine with Miss Pretty.

U u

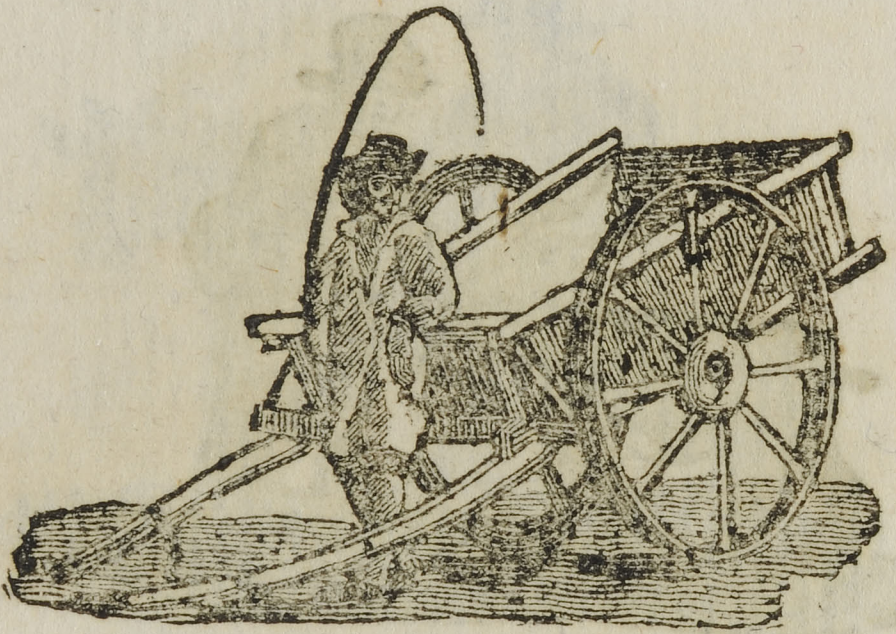

U is my Uncle,
Now driving the Calf;

V v

V's a very nice Girl,
Too civil by half.

W w

W is William,
Been to market, by Dickens;

X x

X stands for Xerxes,
So peep at the Chickens;

Y y

Y is the Ewe,
That grows wool for your clothes;

Z z

Z is the last,
See the Dog take the Bull
by the nose.

3376852

