A Million Deposit Accounts Denote Confidence

AT its offices throughout Canada the Bank of Montreal has over one million deposit accounts.

The depositors, Canadian individuals and Canadian business firms, represent every class of the community in city and country alike—from persons of large means to children starting their life's savings, from industrial corporations of international scope to farmers and small tradesmen. Good faith, good will and good banking practice on the part of those directing the Bank grow naturally out of the sense of responsibility imposed by this expression of nation-wide confidence.

MOLSON'S BREWERY

ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY YEARS AGO

A young man founded a business in Montreal

HIS name was John Molson. It was a brewery he established, and he located it on the outskirts of the city in a district then called the Quebec Suburbs. It is still where he built it. His direct descendants have continuously operated it.

The city has expanded and surrounded the brewery. The road is no longer merely The Quebec Post Road; it has changed its name twice, and is now known as Notre Dame Street. The old brewery has almost disappeared (only its vaulted stone cellars are still in existence and use) but great modern buildings, filled with the most up-to-date equipment, have replaced it.

Through one hundred and fifty years the brewery has had only five heads; John Molson, the Founder, Thomas Molson, John H. R. Molson, John Thomas Molson and Herbert Molson. All have been outstanding citizens of their day; all have carried on the fine traditions so firmly established by the Founder.

McGILL UNIVERSITY PLAYERS' CLUB

Since our last production, Professor C. W. Hendel has been forced to resign from his office of Honorary President of the club, due to the pressure of university affairs.

For three years Professor Hendel has played a large and very active part in the organization of the club in its relations with the university as well as with the greater world of Montreal. He was always willing to give up his time in our interests, and the wise council which he has given us on all occasions has proven itself invaluable in furthering the success of the Players' Club. The executives of the last three years wish to take this opportunity to express their gratitude for his work and friendship, and to hope that he will continue to consider himself always a welcome member of the Players Club because of these bonds.

We welcome most heartily his successor, Dr. F. M. G. Johnson, Dean of the Graduate faculty, who has, by his varied interests in the fields of art and science, already associated himself with our cause; and we look forward to working with him on many future productions.

TO OUR FRIENDS IN THE AUDIENCE—

With the organization of this production, the McGill Players' Club is continuing the policy begun last year. For some years we have felt that our audiences, though generously loyal and enthusiastic, have been somewhat out of touch with the club and its immediate activities. To ensure a greater cohesion between ourselves and our friends, and to keep our supporters posted as to our forthcoming productions, we have decided to make up a mailing list. If you wish your name to be on it, please fill in the lower half of this page, and hand it in to an usher.
