London's Dreadful Visitation: or, A Collection of all the Bills of Mortality for this present year: beginning the 27th. of December 1664. and ending the 19th. of December following: as also, the General or whole years Bill: according to the Report made to the King's Most Excellent Majesty, by the Company of Parish-Clerks of London, &c. sm. 4°. Lond., 1665.

Inserted: (i) 2 leaves on London plagues, extr. from a 17th-cent. work; (ii) 'A General Bill of all the Christnings and Burials' for the following year, Dec. 1665-6 (endorsed 'not in any one of the 3 Bodley copies. It was in my other copy and is transferred here. W. O.').

Two of the 3 Bodleian copies are of another issue, with "beginning the 20th. of December" in the title.

A copy of the 'Oxford Gazette', no. 3, 1665, has been taken from the end of this volume and given to the Bodleian.

Relates to Political Arithmetic.

In the beginning of May, the Bill of Mortality mentions nine that died of the Plague, and decreased the next Week to three, then increased to fourteen, next to seventeen, next forty three, and then great Persons began to retire into the Country. In June the Bill increases to 112, next 168, next 267, next 470, then do many Tradesmen go into the Country: and many Ministers take occasion to absent themselves from their Charge. In July the Bill rises to 725, then to 1089, next 1843, next to 2010, Now most Parishes are infected, a vast number of Houses shut up, no Trade at all, and the number of dying persons still encreasing, although so many thousands left the City. In Aug. the Bill rises to 2817, next 3880, next 4237, and then 6102, all which died of the Plague, besides other Diseases.— Now there is a dismal solitude in London-streets, every day looks with the face of a Sabbath, observed with greater solemnity than it used to be in the City, Shops are shut up, very few walk about, so that grass begins to spring in some places. A deep silence every where, no rattling of Coaches, &c. no calling in Customers, no London Crys, no noise but dying Groans and Funeral Knells, &c.

In September the Bill rises to 6088, the next falls to 6544, but then rises again to 7165, which was the greatest Bill. There were but four Parishes that were not infected, and in them few tarried. The next Bill falls to 5538, then to 4929, then to 4327, then to 2665, then to 1421, then to 1021.— First Week in November it rises to 1414, but falls to 1050, then to 652, then to 333, and so lessened more and more to the end of the year, when we had a Bill of 97306, which died of all Diseases, which was 79000 more than the year before, and the number of them which died of the Plague was reckoned to be 68596 that year; but others say that these died of that fatal Disease, in little more than a years space, near 100000 persons Hobblethorn, Sir John Champney, Sir John Ayloffe, and Sir John Gresham, of which some were Lord Mayors, &c. I find that in the 8th of Qu. Eliz. there died in ten Months seven Aldermen of London, viz. Edward Banks, Richard Chamberlain, Sir Martin Bowes, Sir Richard Mallory, Sir William Hewet, Sir Thomas White, and Richard Lambert, one of the Sheriffs for that year.

In the 36th of Qu. Eliz. there dyed of the Plague in London and the Suburbs 17890. besides the Lord Mayor and three Aldermen, and Michaelsmas-Term was holden at St. Albans. The first of King James, viz. 1602 there died in London and Liberties 38244, whereof of the Plague 30578, yet the next year, though the City was increased with a great number of Strangers, there died of all Diseases but 4263. There broke out likewise a great Plague in the First of King Charles the First, whereof more died than in the beginning of his Fathers Reign. Many other Plagues have been in the City, but I shall conclude this subject with a brief account of the great Plague in 1665.

persons in London, and some adjacent places.

I shall proceed to remark briefly some few things more, which are Miscellaneous Collections of my own from Divers Authors.

In the time of Edward the Second, when the workmen were digging the Foundation of a Work about Pauls, there were found more than 100 heads of Oxen, which confirm'd that opinion, that of old time it had been the Temple of Diana, and that there was the Sacrifice of Beasts.

In the 3 H. 5. It is said that seven Dolphins came up the River of Thames, whereof four were taken. In the Fourth of Q. Mary, before Harvest, Wheat was sold for four Marks the Quarter, Malt at 4 s. the Quarter, Pease at 4 s. 8 d. Yet after Harvest, Wheat was sold for 5 s. the Quarter, Malt for 6 s. 8 d. Rye at 3 s. 4 d. In the Country, Wheat was sold for 4 s. the Quarter, Malt at 4 s. 8 d. and in some places a Bushel of Rye for a pound of Candles, which was 4 d.

I have read that in the Third of King James a Whale came up within eight miles of London, whose body was seen divers times above water, and judged to exceed the length of the largest Ship in the River, but when she tasted the fresh-water, and sented the Land, she returned into the Sea.

I find recorded by divers Writers, that the 17th of July, 1619, one Bernard Calvert of Andover, rode from St. George's Church in Southwark to Dover, and from thence passed by Barge to Callice in France, and from thence returned back to St. George's Church the same day, setting out about three in the Morning, and returned about eight in the Evening, fresh and Disieae, being 180 miles, which was very strange. stitution of the Air, gathered by the predispositions of Seasons: and the speedy cessation declared as much.

The Remedy of this Disease (which hapned again in the 9th of K. H. 8. Anno 1517. and of which vast numbers died, remarkable by this Circumstance, that Englishmen were taken with it in any Country, but no others, and therefore termed by Foreigners Sudor Anglicus, that is, the English-sweat) is given by Polidor Virgil, p. 561. Thus; Quibus Rebus ita usu venit, &c. by which means it grew to a Custom, that after a vast destruction of men (by this Distemper) this kind of help was found effectual. If any person was taken with this Sweat by day, he must go to Bed with his Cloaths on; If by night, and the party be in bed, then he must rest and not stir for 24 hours compleat, in the mean time, he must be so covered as not to provoke Sweat, but let it proceed of its own accord, he must neither eat nor drink any thing but what will just serve to keep him alive,—he must not so much as put forth hand or foot to be cooled, for that's death unavoidable—If the Patient observes this, he is certainly cured, else lost; and this Disease (saith he) invaded only England (or English-men) which men at that time made portentous constructions of.

This Mortal Distemper was succeeded by a raging Plague, which swept away many, so that the King was forced to remove his Court from one place to another. By that Sweating-sickness in H. 8's time, inf-

The P R I N T E R to the R E A D E R.

Courteous Reader,

Presume that the Candor of thy Ingenuity is such, that thou wilt not rashly condemn me of Impudence in the Reprinting these sad sheets. First understand the Reasons moving me thereunto, and then I am somewhat confident that thou wilt Approve of my Design.

I know that Romances and Play-books too much gratifie the Humours of the Populace; but humble and sincere Christians, with Delight recall to minde Gods Mercies, and with Awfulness tremble at His Judgments: Behold, the ensuing Papers will assist thy Meditation in both: Consider His Mercy to Thee and Mee, that we are yet in the Land of the Living, to work out our Salvation with Fear and Trembling: His Judgments on many Thousands in or near this City, whom He hath in One year swept away with the Beesome of a Temporal Destruction: O let us not imagine, that they were greater Sinners than we the Survivors! for, Except we speedily and seriously Repent, we shall all likewise perish, either Similitudine, or Certitudine Penæ: But I am a Printer no Preacher; I shall therefore wave such Discourses, and briefly, yet perspicuously, render a faithfull Account, why I undertook this Publication.

In the year 1625. the stroke of the Lords hand was heavy upon this City and Suburbs, which year was ever since called

To the Reader.

The Great Plague: Now though thou hast seen probably several Printed General Reports, given in by the Parish Clerks in that year; yet I am not able to Recover all the particular Weekly Bills thereof; the sight of them hath been much desired these times; but it is beyond my power, as yet, to answer mens expectations. That Posterity may not any more be at such a loss, I resolv'd to communicate unto the Nation, these subsequent leaves: In all humility beseeching the Omnipotent, to conferr upon us, such an uniforme and cordial Repentance, that every one of us may search out the Plague of his own Heart and Brain, and Purge our selves, by His gracious assistance, from all filthiness of Flesh and Spirit; that so He may in the riches of His tender Compassion, return in favour to this sinful City, and restore Health to our Habitations: That neither the Physicians of our Souls or Bodies, may hereafter in such great numbers forsake us; and that neither my self, or any other of my Profession, may have occasion, for the future, to Print such Dreadful lines.
