PANTHEON FENCING.

A public Affair between Mr. LE BRUN, Amateur, and Mr. AVENEAU, Fencing Master, (successor to the late Mr. Lapierre, Saturday next, the 21st of February at two o'clock. MR. LE BRUN, by confederating to have a Fencing Affair in public with Mr. AVENEAU, successor to the late Mr. Lapierre, gives an undoubted proof of his never having intended to hurt in the least the professional character of that much annotated fencing master. The profits that may arise from this affair are solely intended for Mr. Aveneau, whose generous conduct to the old and distressed mother of Mr. Lapierre, has entitled him to that favour from Mr. Le Brun. Mr. Aveneau flatters himself that he shall meet with encouragement not only from the amateurs in fencing, but also from other gentlemen who, like Mr. Le Brun, delight in acts of beneficence. As there is no sort of danger in the affair, Mr. Aveneau takes the liberty of inviting to it such ladies as may be curious of seeing that exercise. Those Fencing Masters who are desirous of being present to the affair, will be pleased to apply for tickets to Mr. Le Brun, at his lodgings, Opera Coffee-house, Haymarket. Tickets to be had at Mr. Grenier's Hotel, Jermyn-street, St. James's; at the Pantheon; and at Mr. Aveneau's Academy, Chapel-court, Bartholomew-lane.

MEDICINE.

By His MAJESTY'S ROYAL LETTERS PATENT, ANTI-PEPTUSSIS. For Coughs, Colds, Hooping-coughs, Sore Throats, Bilious Disorders, Asthmas and Consumptions, Prepared at MARTIN and BAKER'S Medicinal Warehouse, King's Arms, No. 6, Catharine-street, Strand. AS the sudden and dangerous Changes of our Climate are in general productive of bad Colds, which, if neglected, bring on Fevers, and many other disorders not easily removed, the many thousands that have experienced the happy effects of this valuable Medicine, cannot be made known through the limits of a newspaper; but it would be an injustice to the Public to withhold from them at this season the happy effects of the Anti-peptussis, in recovering a very valuable Woman, wife to Mr. Wilson, Man's Mercer, White's Alley, Bream's Buildings, Chancery-lane, whose life was despaired of from a violent cold she got in her lying-in. It is her particular desire that her case may be made known for the benefit of the afflicted, and will give every satisfaction to those that wish to be informed more particularly of her case. At the above General Medicinal Warehouse may be had the following, with every other genuine Medicine in repute. BAKER and Co's LOZENGES OF COLTS-FOOT, for Coughs, Colds, &c.—These Lozenges are particularly efficacious in troublesome dry Coughs, which irritate and inflame the Lungs, without being able to expectorate; they are as delicate as they are efficacious, giving an agreeableness to the breath. BAKER'S TINCTURE for the TOOTH-ACH, and swelling of the Face.—This Tincture gives immediate ease to that tormenting pain, and preserves the Teeth from further decay. SMITH'S POLYCHREST PILLS, for loss of appetite, indigestion, bilious disorders, &c. KEYSER'S celebrated PILLS for the scrophula, and all impurities of the blood. BAKER'S UNIVERSAL OINTMENT, for a too common infectious eruption of the Skin. This Ointment is particularly recommended to Boarding-schools, &c. as it has no pernicious qualities, without any disagreeable smell, and cures by once using it.

LEVERIAN MUSEUM,

ALBION PLACE, SURREY END OF BLACKFRIARS BRIDGE. THIS admired Assemblage of the Productions of Nature and of Art, Which has been pronounced, by the Legislature of this Kingdom, A NATIONAL ORNAMENT, With many Curious and Valuable Additions, both presented and purchased, continues to be exhibited as usual, from Ten to Five, every day, Sundays excepted. Admission HALF A CROWN each Person. N. B. Good Fires in the Rotunda, &c. &c.

HANOVER-SQUARE.

MR. BURCHI being prevented by an unfortunate indisposition from attending this winter to the duties of his profession, takes the liberty, by the advice of his friends, to solicit the patronage of the Public for his BENEFIT CONCERT, which will be on Monday, May 11. From the many kind offers of assistance which Mr. Burghi has already received from the most eminent professors, he flatters himself the entertainment will not be inferior to those which gave such general satisfaction at his last benefit in the year 1777. Further Particulars will in a few days be advertized.

POOR ORPHANS OF THE CLERGY. THE ANNIVERSARY MEETING of the SOCIETY for MAINTAINING and EDUCATING POOR ORPHANS OF THE CLERGY, till of Age to be put out APPRENTICE, will be held at the Crown and Anchor Tavern in the Strand, on Thursday the 26th Instant, at Two of the Clock precisely, for the Purpose of balloting for FOURTEEN CHILDREN to be admitted into the Schools of the Charity; for electing the Officers and Committees for the Year ensuing; and transacting other Business of the Society. Dinner will be on the Table at Four o'Clock; and the Attendance of Subscribers is particularly requested. STEWARDS. The Rev. G. Horne, D. D. Dean of Canterbury. The Rev. R. Kaye, D. D. F. R. S. Dean of Lincoln. John Perrott, Esq. John Jackson, Esq. Clement Samuel Strong, Esq. John Topham, Esq.

JOHN TOPHAM, Secretary.

LORD-LIEUTENANTS OF COUNTIES, FIELD-OFFICERS, and CAPTAINS of MILITIA, &c. &c. The next Meeting of the MILITIA CLUB will be held at the Thatched-House Tavern, on Saturday the 7th of March, when a full and early Attendance is requested, to take into Consideration the Report of the Committee before Dinner. STEWARDS. His Grace the DUKE of NORTHUMBERLAND. Sir HERBERT MACKWORTH, Bart. Dinner to be on Table at Five o'Clock. Those Gentlemen who mean to attend, are requested to send their Names to Mr. Willis on or before the 5th of March.

WAX-CANDLES.

THE Nobility and Gentry are most respectfully acquainted, that they may be supplied with prime Wax Candles in their genuine state, free from any adulteration whatever, warranted to burn without guttering, smoking, or snuffing, notwithstanding they are sold at the reduced price of 2s. 6d. per lb. at No. 34, Brewer-street, facing James-street, Golden-square.—Good English Wax-Candles, 2s. 4d. per lb.—and an inferior sort at 2s. 2d. The above for ready money, which shall be returned, if the Goods are not approved of.

CHEAP SILKS.

WILLIAM CASS, Mercer, No. 12, Ludgate-hill, begs leave to acquaint the Nobility, Gentry, his Friends, and the Public in general, that on account of his ill state of health, his whole STOCK, consisting of a complete assortment of Demitaines, Satins, Tissues, Watered Tabbies, Dupaces, Lutrings, and every article in the Mercery line, of the best quality and width, is selling off at very reduced prices, and well worth the attention of the Public. N. B. Black Silks, Satin Florentines, Modes, Bombazines, Bombazens Stuffs and Crapes for Mourning, good colours, and warranted to wear well.

GOVERNMENT LOTTERY-OFFICE. No. 149, OXFORD-STREET, opposite NEW BOND-STREET.

THE Nobility and Public are most respectfully informed, the Lottery began Drawing on Monday, the 16th inst. Every legal business relative thereto will continue to be transacted with fidelity and honour by Mr. W. NORTON. N. B. All business respecting the Funds, &c. will be conducted as usual by Mr. HODGES.

This day is published, price 1s. 6d. LETTERS to a PRINCE from a MAN OF KENT. London; printed for W. Richardson, at the Royal Exchange; and sold also by Walter, Piccadilly; Faulder and Hookham, New Bond-street; and R. Baldwin, Paternoster-row.

To the CURIOUS in FISH SAUCE. ESSENCE OF ANCHOVIES, &c. &c. T. YOUNG, No. 44, New Bond-street, begs to recommend to the Nobility, Gentry and Public a SAUCE, which he prepares from the Gorgona Anchovies. Anchovy Sauce is most general, and one of the best Sauces for most kinds of Fish, but his Sauce has many Advantages over the common Method made use of in dissolving the Anchovies in common Water, particularly that of its never getting ruffy by keeping, which frequently happens to Anchovies when kept any length of Time. It is less troublesome and less Expensive, as nothing is wanting but stirring it into the Butter, either in the Kitchen or at the Table; and as it is intended for the Side Board, Ladies and Gentlemen may make their own Fish Sauce, or heighten it agreeable to their Taste. It is very convenient for Gentlemen who travel, Captains of Ships, and Families when in the Country, where they cannot be accommodated with good and fresh Anchovies, as it will keep any length of Time in any Climate.

N. B. He makes great Allowance to Dealers, and such as take large Quantities, either for Exportation or Home Consumption. It is sold by Appointment by Mr. George, No. 12, Alfred-street, Bath; Mr. Shiercliff's Circulating Library, St. Ault's Back, Bristol; Mr. Delamot, Weymouth; Mrs. Fishlake and Son, Salisbury; Mr. Newton, Druggist, Exeter; Mr. J. Roberts, Druggist, Barnstable; Mrs. Jane Toulmin, Bookeller, Taunton; Mr. T. Crandon, Bookeller, Bridgewater; Mr. Blagden, Winchester; and may be had in almost every principal Fish Town in England, Scotland, and Ireland. T. YOUNG begs to observe, as the Original and Sole Inventor of this useful Sauce, which still preserves its Superiority over all others, that many People now make a spurious Sort, but so different to his as not to deserve a Name. He returns his most sincere Thanks to the Nobility, Gentry, his Friends, and Customers, for their great Encouragement, and most humbly hopes for their future Favours, as he will make it his Study how to preserve them, and to procure the very best of Articles for their Use, and to sell them on very reasonable Terms for Ready Money.

For the MORNING POST,

LONDON, Feb. 11, 1789.

Mr. Editor, A Paragraph having appeared in a public Paper, in which it is asserted, that "Sir John Gallini gives out every where, that he was prevailed on by my persuasion, to import the contraband articles which were lately seized at his house." The best answer would be, to give a flat contradiction to so gross a falsehood. But, out of respect to the generality of your readers, I am willing to come forward, and to prove, in the most convincing manner, that wherever such a report may have taken its rise; it was groundless and false.

1st. I never held any correspondence whatsoever with Mr. Gallini in writing.

2dly. During Mr. Gallini's stay in Paris, so far from having had any sort of connection with him, I never saw him there.

3dly. My engagement for the Opera did not take place till the latter end of November last—it was made by Monsieur Kavelin, an eve of the departure of that Gentleman for London with the actual dancers.

4thly. I do solemnly and publicly declare, that I have always entertained the most scrupulous respect for the laws of the various nations of Europe, amongst whom I have had the honour to be employed, at the different periods of my life.

Permit me, Sir, to thank you for the flattering manner in which you have spoken of me, in the paragraph in a Morning Paper alluded to, and to assure you, that as my character, as a man, has stood hitherto unblemished, so it shall follow me to my grave. I have the honour to be, Sir, Your most humble and obedient servant, G. NOVERRE, No. 49, Great Marlborough-street.

I can certify the Paragraph of Wednesday the 11th of February, put in a Daily Paper concerning Mr. Noverre and me, to be false.

J. GALLINI.

This Day is published, in 12mo. Price 6d. sewed, Embellished with a most beautiful and animated Portrait of Miss FARREN, elegantly drawn from Life by Stothard, and engraved in a most masterly Style by Heath.

ARTHUR and EMMELINE; an Entertainment of Two Acts, abridged from The Maque of King Arthur, as altered from Dryden, By DAVID GARRICK, Esq. Marked with the Variations in the Manager's Book at the Theatre Royal, Drury Lane. Printed for R. Baldwin, S. Bladon, W. Nicol, A. Strahan, and W. Lowndes.

Of whom may be had, in Octavo, Price 1s. sewed, ornamented with First Impressions of the above-mentioned Portrait, King Arthur; or, The British Worthy: A Masque of Five Acts, as originally altered from Dryden. And also near 200 Dramatic Pieces, illustrated and enriched by brilliant Frontispieces of the principal Actors and Actresses after Life, by the most eminent and celebrated Artists. Likewise, illustrated by a Dozen Copper-plates, a new Edition of Congreve's Dramatic Works and Poems, in Two Vols. 12mo. Price 6s. sewed—7s. bound. Catalogues of Plays, Farces, &c. given Gratis, upon Application at No. 77, Fleet-street.

MEDICINE ACT. MR. NEWBERY, at the East end of St. Paul's, No. 45, five doors from the corner of Cheap-side, Proprietor of Dr. James's, and many other valuable Medicines, informs the Public, that notwithstanding the addition of the Stamp Duties imposed by this Act, the retail price of Dr. James's Powder is continued at the old rate of 6s. 6d. a packet. It is also sold at 11. 4s. per dozen; or the quantity of a dozen packets may be had in one bottle for 11. 2s. 6d. duty included.

The retail prices of his Medicines, with the duty, are now as follow: but those who purchase at his warehouse half a dozen or more, at a time, will be allowed the stamps gratis.

	s. d.		s. d.
Dr. James's Powder	2 6	Seneca's Dentifrice	4 0
Analytic Pills	4 6	Essence of Coltsfoot	3 6
Cattle Powder	1 6	English Coffee	2 9
Dr. Steer's Opodeldoc	2 0	Glaib's Magnesia	3 6
Freake's Tincture of Bark	4 0	Balfam of Honey	3 6

Tolu Lozenges	1 1 1/2	Cephalic Snuff	0 7 1/2

N. B. As many persons mistake Mr. Newbery's house, falsely imagining that he is a Bookfeller from the name, it is proper to inform them, that his Warehouse is for the sale of Medicines only, and all purchasers are requested to be careful in applying or directing to him as above, and as of other distinction to observe, that his house is a little out of the general line of foot passengers, on the coach-way, five doors from the corner of Cheap-side, towards Walling-street, and that it has a white stuccoed front, with these words against it, viz. "THE ONLY WAREHOUSE FOR DR. JAMES'S POWDER." Where also may be had, most of the other genuine Medicines of repute; and orders for exportation may be supplied without stamps, as heretofore.

THE PROPRIETOR OF

LEAKE'S PATENT PILLS, so long and so justly celebrated for their superior efficacy in curing VENEREAL, SCORBUTIC and CUTANEOUS AFFECTIONS, submits the following letter to an impartial public.

Little Wellock, near Bridgnorth, Shropshire, "SIR, May 14, 1788. A friend of mine has long been infected with the Venereal Disease, inasmuch that he has not been able to get out of his bed for these five years, notwithstanding he has been salivated, and every means used by many learned men of the Faculty, but all their endeavours were without effect. At length, hearing of your most excellent, indeed I think, incomparable PILULA SALUTARIA, I advised him to try it, and in the course of a month, this poor emaciated wretch was restored to perfect health. "I think it justice to you, and indeed, to all mankind, to make this public for their benefit, if ever any of them should be afflicted with the like disorder. I am, With the utmost respect and gratitude, SIR, Your most obedient, And obliged humble servant, HENRY BATEMAN."

The above Medicine is prepared and sold by the sole Proprietor, T. Taylor, Member of the Corporation of Surgeons, London, at his house, No. 9, New Bridge-street, where he will give advice without a fee, to persons taking these Pills, and will answer Patients Letters, if post-paid, on the same terms, observing in all cases the most inviolable secrecy. N. B. Two back doors, and lights in the passages at night. They are also sold, by his appointment, for the convenience of those living at a distance, at the Perfumers, No. 35, St. Alban's-street, Pall-mall; Mr. Robertson's Toy-shop, No. 103, Oxford-street; Mr. Barker's Bookfeller, Russell-court, Drury-lane; Mess. Davis and Collier's Music-shop, No. 7, Fifth-street-hill; Mr. Steele's Bookfeller, No. 1, Union-row, Little Tower-hill, and no where else in London; Mr. Caw's, Edinburgh; Mr. Magee, Dublin; and by one person in every considerable town in England, in boxes of 2s. 9d. each, sealed up, with copious directions.

VICTUALLING-OFFICE, Nov. 5, 1788.

THE Commissioners for Victualling his Majesty's Navy do hereby give notice, That on Tuesday the 5th of May next, they will be ready to receive tenders, in writing, (sealed up) and treat with such persons as will undertake to supply his Majesty's Ships at Jamaica with Fresh Beef, for one year certain, and further, until twelve months notice shall be given on either side.

VICTUALLING-OFFICE, Feb. 11, 1789.

THE Commissioners for Victualling his Majesty's Navy do hereby give notice, That on Tuesday next the 17th inst. they will be ready to receive tenders, in writing, (sealed up) and treat for the under-mentioned articles, viz. 10,000 Biscuit Bags, of British manufacture, answerable to a sample to be produced by the Board. For 300 Bags of Kenilth Hops, of the growth of the year 1788; and for white English Flax, to be spun for the use of this Office, for one year. The whole of the said articles to be delivered into his Majesty's Stores at this Port.

SUGAR HOUSE in GLASGOW, NORTH-BRITAIN. FOR SALE.

A MOST complete SUGAR HOUSE, and other connected BUILDINGS, situated at the Corner of Queen-Street and Ingram-Street, two of the principal streets of the City of Glasgow.

This Sugar House was erected in Summer, 1786, on the most approved Plan, is substantially built of stone, and the wood work, and other finishing, of the best and most durable kinds. It measures fifty feet by forty-five over the walls; and consists of seven Floors, and is completely furnished with Boilers, Coolers, Cisterns, and all other necessary Utensils, all in the most complete order.

Adjoining to the Sugar House, and communicating with it, is a Scale Room, a Counting Room, and Grinding Mill, and above these, is a large Warehouse for Raw Sugars, which is on a level, and communicates with the first floor of the Sugar House; the whole being so constructed, as to give the greatest facility to every part of the business.

There is a large Court belonging to the Sugar House, in which is a Stable, and other Offices; also a Pump Well of excellent Water.

On the South side of the Court, and fronting Queen-Street, is a Range of new Buildings, which may at a small expence, be fitted up as one or two commodious Dwelling-Houses.

These Premises are allowed by all Judges who have seen them, to be one of the most complete and convenient Sugar Works of the size in Britain, and is capable of refining from 1200 to 1400 hogheads annually.

The City of Glasgow is highly eligible for carrying on the Refining Business to advantage.—Labour does not cost one-half, and Coals not a third, of the Prices in London; and the supply of Raw Sugars, which is ample, is still upon the increase, and generally to be had two or three shillings per Cwt. lower than in London.—The Scotch Refiners can always sell their Refined Sugars Two Shillings per Cwt. higher than the London Prices, because it costs Two Shillings per Cwt. to bring Refined Sugars from London to Leith by sea; and the local advantages which Glasgow possesses, already noticed, added to the Freight and Charges of bringing Sugars from a distance, exclude all interference from any where else.

The Market for Refined Sugars in Glasgow is very considerable, besides the consumption of that city, containing upwards of 50,000 inhabitants, and Paisley, within seven miles of it, containing above 20,000 inhabitants; and the Towns and Country adjacent; the City of Edinburgh, the capital of Scotland, and containing upwards of 80,000 inhabitants, little more than 40 miles distant, with the Town of Leith, and many other large Towns, and a very populous surrounding Country, are chiefly supplied with Sugars from Glasgow; the communication being both easy and cheap, by means of the great Canal between the Forth and the Clyde.

PARLIAMENTARY INTELLIGENCE.

HOUSE OF LORDS.

MONDAY, Feb. 16.

Lord DOVER produced to their Lordships his Patent of Peerage.—Referred to the Committee of Privileges.

Lord SYDNEY moved the second reading of the Regency Bill.

The DUKE OF GRAFTON, after apologizing for his former silence, which his Grace attributed to previous illness, gave his decided sentiments in favour of the measures pursued by the present Administration. At the same time, doing justice to the sincerity of the Opposition; there was one clause, however, which his Grace differed from, namely, that which restrained the Regent from assenting to the repeal of the Penal Laws respecting Religion.

Lord SOUTHAMPTON differed in opinion from his Grace. After which, the Bill was read a second time, and by motion, ordered to be committed for To-morrow (this Day). To which day their Lordships adjourned, and summonses were issued.

LONDON.

FEB. 17.

Yesterday the EARL OF WINCHELSEA continued as LORD of the BED CHAMBER in Waiting at St. James's.

The Physicians' Report is as follows:

KEW-PALACE, FEB. 16.

"His MAJESTY continues in a state of progressive amendment."

To the LORD IN WAITING of his MAJESTY'S BED-CHAMBER.

G. BAKER,

H. R. REYNOLDS,

F. WILLIS.

(This is a true Copy.)

WINCHELSEA.

Mr. PITT is too upright a man, and knows the value of Public respect too much, to be concerned in the strange reports which are now spread with great assiduity respecting the health of his MAJESTY. To circulate unfounded rumours of extraordinary amendment, and yet deny the PRINCE OF WALES, and DUKE OF YORK a fight of their Father is as ridiculous, as it is despicable.

It was affirmed in a Morning Print of yesterday, "That the KING IS RECOVERED," and that "he is as PERFECTLY HIMSELF as he ever was at any period of his life." If the latter part of this assertion were not a cruel irony, intended to throw a reflection on the mental powers of the King, by insinuating that he never was free from intellectual debility, but an assurance founded upon real facts, what should be said of those persons who were accessory to the denial of the PRINCE OF WALES, and DUKE OF YORK, on Friday last, a fight of their Royal Father, when they might have enjoyed the exquisite transport of seeing a beloved Parent rescued from the most pitiable of human calamities?

The Physicians' reports, though obviously not calculated to impart clear and definite ideas of the condition of his MAJESTY, seem, however, a better ground for Public confidence, than the auspicious rumours in daily circulation for political objects, but in reality to no end but that of plunging the country in deeper affliction, on the detection of these specious harbingers of delusive felicity.

Though we are averse to credit every flying report, yet we hold it our duty to the Public, to communicate whatever is related respecting so important a subject as the condition of his Majesty. Very flattering accounts have been recently given concerning the health of our amiable Monarch, in consequence of which the PRINCE OF WALES and DUKE OF YORK visited Kew on Friday to ascertain the grounds of representations, so acceptable to every friend of Britain, but had the mortification to find all their hopes defeated, in being denied a fight of their unfortunate Parent. The reason of this denial is laid, but we trust without foundation, to have arisen in the following circumstance: Dr. WILLIS, who has obtained a complete agency over the Royal mind, had, as the story goes, prepared his Majesty to request the PRINCE OF WALES, on his assumption of the Regency not to make any change in Administration; and this requisition was to have been made on Friday last, when it was understood that the PRINCE would be at Kew; but unfortunately, on that day, the King was in one of those situations, when even Dr. WILLIS, and his attendants, have but little influence over him, and therefore as his Majesty was not in a suitable temper to converse with the PRINCE upon the meditated subject, it was thought proper that he should not see him.

Such is the story, which seems to be framed for party purposes, but which, according to report, is really authentic.

A Court of Aldermen will be held at Guildhall This Day, when J. Anderson, the newly elected Alderman of Alderfergate Ward, will be sworn in to office.

A quantity of naval stores are now preparing at Portsmouth Dock Yard, to be shipped immediately for the West Indies.

Yesterday, at two o'clock, the Mayor, Aldermen and Assistants of the City of Rochester, waited upon His Royal Highness the PRINCE OF WALES at Carleton-House, and had the honour of presenting the following unanimous Address, to which His Royal Highness was graciously pleased to return the sub-joined Answer:

To His Royal Highness GEORGE PRINCE OF WALES.

The humble and unanimous Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Assistants, of the ancient City of ROCHESTER, in Guildhall assembled, the 10th day of February, 1789.

"WE His Majesty's loyal subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Assistants, of the said City, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with the most sincere condolence on the great calamity that has fallen on your Royal Father; so distressing to your Royal Highness, to every branch of the Royal Family, and every individual in the Nation. We beg leave at the same time to offer to your Royal Highness our warmest thanks, for your accepting of the great and arduous Trust which has been tendered to you by the two Houses of Parliament. We are sensible there is no example in the history of this country of an Executive Government, founded on the principles, or limited in the manner of that which your Royal Highness has been called upon to administer. And we beg leave to assure you, that, from these circumstances, we feel it the more our indispensable duty, to give the most zealous, dutiful, and affectionate support to your Royal Highness, in so new and difficult an undertaking. We feel the warmest sentiments of gratitude to your Royal Highness for the declaration your Royal Highness has made of those principles of Government which first placed the House of Brunswick on the Throne of these kingdoms, and which must continue to endure them to a faithful and attached people. We hope, that in administering the high trust reposed in your Royal Highness, you will call to the execution of the political offices of the country those in whom your Royal Highness can place the most unreserved confidence, and who will most cheerfully and ably co-operate with your Royal Highness's gracious endeavours for the safety of the rights of the Crown, and the preservation of the privileges of the people."

HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS'S ANSWER.

"Gentlemen,

"I thank you most cordially for the affectionate and loyal sentiments you have expressed respecting the situation of my Royal Father. I assure you that the greatest consolation I feel in undertaking the arduous trust to which I am called, is founded on the affectionate proofs I receive of the zeal and attachment of his subjects to his Majesty's Royal Person and Family; it will ever be the first pride of my life to merit the continuance of their confidence and esteem, and in every situation to act on those Constitutional Principles which you, Gentlemen, so warmly approve, and which first placed the House of Brunswick on the Throne of this Kingdom."

On the 14th instant died, in the 81st year of her age, at her house near Brompton, the Right Hon. LADY HENRIETTA GORDON, eldest daughter of Alexander Second Duke of Gordon, and Lady Henrietta Mordaunt, only daughter to Charles Earl of Peterborough and Monmouth.

On Sunday last died, at her house at Lambeth, aged 68, the Dowager Lady BAMPFYLDE, widow of Sir Richard Warwick Bampfylde, Bart. late of Pottmore, in the county of Devon, who represented that county in several Parliaments, mother of Sir Charles Warwick Bampfylde, Bart. one of the Members for the city of Exeter. Her Ladyship was the only child and heiress of John Codrington, Esq. of Wraxhall Lodge, in the county of Somerset, who was many years Representative of the city of Bath.

Saturday the Purser of the Nottingham East-Indiaman, outward-bound to Fort St. George and China, received his final dispatches from the India-house.

The General Goddard and Melville Castle, for Bengal, are expected to sail the latter end of the present week.

The following is an authentic list of the men of war lately put into commission by order of the Admiralty Board.

Bellona, 74 guns, Capt. Broderic Hartwell, for a guardship at Portsmouth, in the room of one of the ships shortly to be paid off.

Centurion, 50 guns, Capt. Herbert Sawyer, designed to be Admiral Sir Charles Douglas's flag ship, on the American station.

Endymion, 44 guns, Lieut. D. Woodriff, designed for a storeship to carry troops to the West-Indies, among which are a corps of military ordnance-artificers, which are designed to assist in the intended repair of the fortifications at Antigua, Barbadoes, St. Kitt's, &c. for which place several thousand of new bricks have been shipped for that purpose.

Blanche, 32 guns, Capt. R. Murray, a new ship, launched in 1786, and never yet at sea, designed for the Jamaica station, to relieve ships that come home on the exchange of the commands which are to take place next summer.

Blonde, 32 guns, Capt. William Affleck, a new ship, launched in 1787, and never yet at sea, designed for the West-Indies, to relieve ships coming home, but whether for Jamaica or the Leeward Islands is not yet determined.

The above are all fitting out at Portsmouth, except the Centurion, of 50 guns, which is equipping in the Medway.

The Medusa, 50 guns, a new ship, now laid up in ordinary at Plymouth, five more frigates, and two sloops at different ports, are ordered to be surveyed, previous to their being commissioned for different services.

THEATRE

Drury-Lane.

The power of fine acting was never more strongly manifested than last night, the benefit of Mrs. Siddons, when the turgid heavy drama of THE LAW OF LOMBARDY was rendered highly affecting by the excellence of the performance.

To Mrs. Siddons, Kemble, and Wroughton, were the audience chiefly indebted for this extraordinary operation of a tragedy, so admirably calculated in itself to lull the faculties into repose.

The farce of LETHE, which has humour enough to deserve a more frequent exhibition, presented Mrs. Siddons in the Fine Lady, and though her previous exertions in the tragedy might be expected to diminish her spirit, she supported the part with much vivacity.

The value of Mrs. Siddons's private character was attested by a very large audience.

The Professional Concert had the PRINCE OF WALES, DUKE OF YORK, and many persons of fashion last night. MARCHESI was in full voice. Miss CANTOLO supported the impression her merit had produced. The performance was as usual correct and animated.

GALLINI is attacked without mercy by his numerous foes for not bringing into this country, such distinguished talents in the comic and capering province as might please the people of fashion. But has he not, in reality, since his management, introduced the first performers that the Continent could furnish, and if he were to re-engage them, would not the subscribers have reason to complain that he gave them hackneyed performers, and did not gratify them with novelty. He has declared his willingness to engage talents, if they can be found. Why then do not his adversaries point out proper objects for his encouragement, and such as are worthy of appearing before a British audience?

Dr. Burney has at last completed his HISTORY OF MUSIC, on which he has been employed for some years. This work is the produce of assiduity, literature, and genius, and will be as acceptable to the scholar and the man of taste as to the members of the profession whose science it records. The subscription is patronized by the first people in this country, and by every character that has the least pretensions to a Belles Lettres.

BATH.

So much is Mr. Fox indebted to the waters for the restoration of his health, that he talks of buying a house, and living in it for as long a time together as he can be spared from his duty to his country.

Cyclop continues a constant visitor in the morning at the Rooms, but picks up little, on account of a late fracas—the loungers are grown more circumspect.

Smiler still keeps his ground well with the old Dowagers—Quadrille with them—Piquet with young men—and Back-gammon with the old ones. Altogether he does tolerably—he keeps his horse and man, and is called a Gentleman.

Laura Place is getting on rapidly—Mrs. Macartney's house in particular—the builder is to forfeit 500l. if not finished by a stated time—he knows the inflexibility of the Lady, and of course will have it ready.

The little BIRMINGHAM Commodore has left off Billiards, and flicks close to the Four Aces, of which he makes little.

A new Musical Society has been lately established at THE RAVEN, now the LONDON TAVERN, which, it is said, is not inferior to the Noblemen's at the WHITE LION.

The Benefits at the Theatre have commenced—the two Managers' very great, and the Prompter's good.—Those of Ward, Murray, Mrs. Simpson, and Mrs. Knight's, are expected to be among the foremost.

The two Vocal Pugilists are to have their difference settled by umpire, as neither are overlooked with cash to proceed in law.

KEAN, the mimic, exhibits at the theatre at Wells this week—he has behaved himself much better than people of his occupation generally do. Since he came here he has felt the sweets of it.

The principal libraries here are MARSHALL'S, BULL'S, and MEYLER'S—the first for the Ladies, the second for the Gentlemen, and the third for both.

BRISTOL.

The gentleman found dead in a field leading from Cainham to Bristol, was a Mr. CLUTTERWICK—a phrenzy fit was the cause of his sudden dissolution.

A quarrel, succeeded by blows, has lately taken place here, between Mr. JOHN DAVID and Mr. C. D. BERRY; the consequence was, a challenge from the former, which Mr. B. prudently declined. Much offensive language passed on both sides, which is not to the credit of those who would wish to be thought Gentlemen.

The three gamblers, who were a few days ago cast to be transported seven years, for defrauding a gentleman, have petitioned to have leave to transport themselves; if so, it is supposed they will join ENGLAND in FRANCE.

Mrs. GREEN, that excellent actress, who belonged for many years to Covent-garden Theatre, lives almost secluded from society, in a house of her own, next door to the old Theatre, at Jacob's Wells. The only amusement she takes is going now and then to the play.

A publican in the Market-place has lately been robbed of upwards of 150l. whereupon a man was taken into custody; but no proof appearing against him, was discharged; however, he has taken proper caution to withdraw himself, and, it is supposed, he is gone for Bath or London;—being a way and means man, he will undoubtedly succeed in either of those places in preference to Bristol.

To the EDITOR of the MORNING POST.

SIR,

THE following is a Translation of the Letter written by the unhappy French Gentleman, previous to the accomplishment of his fatal resolution, (as the particulars are related in your paper of this day,) and which you are at liberty to insert, if it should meet with your approbation.

Feb. 16. AN OLD CORRESPONDENT.

TWO hours after mid-day, three hours before my death.

I think it, Sir, my duty to leave you these lines, to prevent inquiries and solicit your pardon for this embarrassment, and an appropriation of a small piece of ground to my interment. The indifference of my parents, the dislike I had to the profession of an impostor, the perfidy of one tenderly beloved, are the most powerful motives for a sensible soul to pre-empt itself, and prefer a grateful dissolution, better or worse. It is not that I was difficult to please, or wanted support. If I had preserved my tender love, which heaven seems to have destined to some man to attach him to life, and to make him an object of love; I had not then looked upon the death without trembling, which I now behold with a smile, the tranquillity of my family furnished me with a pretext for retarding my resignation, and induced me to come to this distant place for internment. Paris and London have not convinced me it is more my interest to live than to die; on the contrary, it would be ridiculous to nourish evils without hopes of relieving one's self, and which I think every man ought to do as he thinketh fit. You say, Sir, I was a fool, which I had much rather be than wife, and suffer. I do not perceive any great advantage in living to eat, to drink, and to sleep, for that is the whole train of life: and as sleep is beyond contradiction the greatest blessing, I will take this evening some pills that will make me sleep a long while. If the four elements should reunite, and after a thousand combinations, should form me once more, I would not consent to exist but under the English Government, which is Excellence itself, and which ought to serve as a model to all nations of the world, but not that my body should not excel by this concurrence of the four elements, of which it is composed.

I have seen all, tasted all, but I am not willing to begin life again.

To those whom it may concern.

The plan of the Philanthropic Society, besides its obvious benefits, contains much latent good, that time alone can fully develop. It is the only possible means of putting an end to those evils of which all ranks of men complain, the depravity and misery of the lower orders of the poor. By a proper provision for those children, who, as vagrants, are training up to public plunder, by teaching them industry, sobriety, moral and religious duties, they will be elevated into consequence in themselves, as well as utility to the state. It is in the mind the desired reform must be begun, and in youthful minds not yet irreclaimably abandoned to vice. Such is the grand design of this truly politic institution. The inculcation of virtue is its primary object; the maintenance of the child is only a collateral circumstance, arising from the necessity of its separation from its parents. As this plan proceeds, and is extended, the aspect of things among the poor will be in a manner renovated, and in place of disorder, indolence, rags, filth, disease, drunkenness, profaneness, prostitution, theft and murder—order, decency, industry, and happiness will succeed.

This desirable change will take place in proportion as a benevolent Public shall supply the means. Nor is it intended to take from the purity of the motive to add, that the cost is only transferred from one hand to the other; nay, the cost of supporting the poor in idleness and degradation, is beyond comparison greater than a few years maintenance of their youth, preparatory to their forming a class of industrious labourers, and contributing to the public stock of wealth.

Seventeen children have been already, by the bounty of the Public, snatched from the very lowest state of misery and ruin, and brought under the influence of good regulations and moral culture.

Subscriptions for the institution are received by Sir Robert Herries and Co. St. James's-street; Sir James Edaile, Edaile, Hammett and Edaile, Lombard-street; Messrs. Boldero, Adey, Luffington, and Boldero, Cornhill; Messrs. Courts and Co. Strand; Messrs. Dorrien, Mello and Martin, Finch-lane; and Mr. Robert Young, Warwick-court, Holborn, Intendant.

Extract of a Letter from Warsaw, Jan. 27.

"We have received certain advice, that the Russian General Kamenkoy, who attacked the Chan of the Tartars, near Bender, on the 4th, entirely defeated him, and obliged him to fly, with the loss of 1500 men killed. The Russians took two pieces of cannon, and 800 prisoners, among whom are four Chans. General Kamenkoy is actually marched against Bender, which he hopes soon to make himself master of, particularly as the garrison is in want of provisions.

MEDICAL INTELLIGENCE.—Among the medical improvements of the present day, we may class a new and ingenious mode of applying a branch of natural philosophy to the cure of deafness. It has already been attended with the most flattering success in a variety of instances. The following case in particular has much excited the public attention, and seems to be no bad specimen of its efficacy:

Mr. Morgan, silk-mercer in Aldgate, after having been rendered equally unhappy in himself, and unfocible to his friends, by a deafness and constant noise in his ears for upwards of thirty years, has lately had the good fortune to be perfectly relieved, and as it were, again restored to society.

The Ticket No. 22,128, as first drawn, entitled to 1000l. was sold by Mr. NICHOLSON, at his fortunate office, Bank-street, Cornhill, where both the 20,000l. prizes, one of 10,000l. and one of 5,000l. in the late Irish Lottery were sold.—Tickets and shares, warranted undrawn, are selling every morning and evening. The utmost value for prizes.—N. B. His Numerical Book is always open for the inspection and information of his friends, free of expence.

WRIGHT'S State Lottery-Office, Charing-Cross.—The Public are respectfully acquainted Tickets and Shares will be daily selling from eight o'clock in the morning till nine, and from four till eight in the evening, warranted undrawn.—The utmost value given for prizes.—Upwards of four hundred thousand pounds in capital prizes, have been sold at this office, and paid immediately on demand.

The Countess Valois De La Motte begs leave to inform the Public, that as several spurious Publications have appeared under the titles of her Life or Memoirs, which were pretended to have been written by her, but which she disclaims any knowledge of; she thinks it necessary, in order to guard against similar impositions in future, to declare, that no Publications, purporting to be her Memoirs, are genuine, but such as have her signature affixed to them, which she has subscribed to the Publication under the title of "Memoires Justificatifs de La Comtesse Valois De La Motte," now selling at Mr. J. Ridgway's, No. 1, York-street, St. James's-square, and other Places.

COOKE'S PATENT DRILL MACHINES, highly improved and simplified, with horse-hoes annexed, and comprized in one and the same instrument, are now manufactured, and sold (the machine and horse-hoe together, under a new patent) for twelve guineas, ready money, at No. 1, White Lion-yard, opposite the Pantheon, Oxford-street, London. With the above Machine, from eight to ten acres of land will be drilled in one day, with one man, a boy, and one horse, and by means of a most simple contrivance, for influencing the direction of the hoes, so as to avoid cutting up the Corn. From eight to ten acres will effectually be hoed in one day, with one man, a boy, and one horse, at the very trifling expence of sixpence per acre. The said Patentee having now no manner of connection with Mr. John Hairs, Seedfinn, No. 73, Oxford-street, London, all orders and remittances are requested to be forwarded to Mr. Cooke, No. 1, White Lion-yard, opposite the Pantheon, Oxford-street, London.

WINTER CLOAKS, MUFFS, and FUR-TRIMMINGS. MESSRS. SMITH and Co. at the THREE PIGEONS and SCEPTRE, No. 173, Fleet-street, having received their fashions for the Winter Season, they have in consequence made up an assortment of white and coloured fatin cloaks, lined and interlined, and trimmed with fur, for two guineas each; and with handsome white and coloured foxes, from three to ten guineas each; also fashionable mode cloaks, from 15s. to 36s. trimmed with gauze and lace; ditto lined and interlined, from 25s. to ten guineas each; also broad black point lace for the edges of bonnets, from 5s. to two guineas per yard.

SMITH and Co. constantly keep a very large assortment of all kinds of fur trimmings, and fur muffs (which they will sell full ten per cent. lower than at any other house in town,) among which are some beautiful white and coloured fox muffs, from ten shillings to ten guineas each; also sable, fishers, bears, wolves, hares, lynx, &c. also goats beard, in white and colours. Some few cloaks of last year on hand, will be sold for little more than half their value. Our alarms for cloaks, are not to be equalled in town for colour and wear, and are full ten per cent. lower than last year. We have now fitted up a large and commodious room for the sale of all kinds of millinery, ready made from fashions we are constantly receiving from Paris. We have also a warehouse appropriated for the sale of muffs, where ladies may see a most curious collection of every kind that is fashionable or worn, such as tambours, japons, allabells, gold and silver muffs, fringes, checks, fatin spots, plain and corded books, &c. also a large stock of dimities, French lawns and cambricks.

Smith and Co. request Ladies to notice the Number of their House, as there is another of the same Name, and in the Neighbourhood.
